

SILKIE BANTAM- ASSORTED, WHITE, BUFF, BLUE AND BLACK:

Silkie Bantams are ornamental birds with fine, fur- like feathers that the Chinese believe have special healing properties. Silkies have black or dark slate skin, five toes and feather crowns, feathered legs and some have beards as well. Silkies are known for being extremely broody with excellent maternal instincts. Hens are often used to hatch eggs from almost any poultry or game fowl, including pheasants, quail, chickens, even ducks. Their calm and docile nature makes them easy to handle and a great addition to any backyard flock.
