

WANT TO DO MORE?

There are many worthwhile charities supporting our military and their families. If you are unfamiliar with an agency, there are a few resources out there that will help you decide if an organization is one you want to support.

- All IRS registered 501(c)(3) charities are listed with GuideStar.org. There you can see where and how donations are being spent.
- CharityNavigator.com is a second resource but will only include organizations larger than $1 million.
